"Cats Pride"

The 1987 BCEAN

The Wildcat is symbolic of our college family, and in the true sense of family the cover design includes both male and female "cats."

We have attempted to display in pictures as many facets as possible to show what Wildcat country is about. Hats off to the 1987 graduating class for going in style with a color section. The Trustees are highlighted for their fine works that continue to keep the college in the mainstream of America.

It is our hope that as you turn the pages of this book, you will be reminded of a number of happy memories. If you have a sense of history, this will serve as a record of 1986-87 for you.

We are all proud of the number one "Wildcat" and leader of Wildcat country, Dr. Oswald P. Bronson, Senior. Our president has carried the institution to new heights. The college received a gift of more than $6 million this year. This is a record gift for the college, and gives new meaning to "Wildcat Pride."

Finally, to our student organizations who comprise the heart of the institution, we say "There is a winner in you." Go forth Wildcats and display "Cat's Pride."

DEDICATION

Late one evening in 1946, Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune stood center stage in the auditorium at Atlanta University. After she delivered her speech to a group of eager students, a young man approached the stage and offered to help with her bags. She was so impressed with this graduate student, that she asked him if he would take a position as chaplain of her school and pastor of Stewart Memorial United Methodist Church. After some persuasion, the young man accepted Mrs. Bethune's offer.

Since starting his career at Bethune-Cookman College that day plus 40 years, the Rev. Rogers P. Fair has witnessed many changes at BCC. He has seen the student body increase from 200 degree-seeking students to 1700 plus. He has watched the campus explode in size with new buildings. He has even looked on as the students stopped wearing their traditional blue and white school uniforms and replaced them with more modern fashions.

Speaking as a sociologist, Fair says that he understands shocking social changes. But, he wants the next change at BCC to be the school's endowment increased to $8 million.

In addition to his post as BCC chaplain and pastor of Stewart Memorial, Rev. Fair is a professor of sociology at BCC. He also serves on the Civil Service Board of Daytona Beach, the Volusia County Health Facility Authority, the executive committee of the NAACP, he's chairman of the board of the Richard V. Moore Center, and the list goes on.

Having served under three of the four college presidents, Fair is to some extent an expert on BCC's history. Two years ago, he decided to write a book on the history of the institution. The book will emphasize the school's progress as well as her problems. Fair has already completed the necessary research and reviews. He hopes to complete the book next year. All proceeds from the sale will go directly to Bethune-Cookman College.

Rev. Fair describes himself as a servant of God, and one who has been richly blessed. Dr. Fair was honored in Who's Who Among American Clergymen for nine consecutive years. He has studied at Oxford University in England in 1958, 1965, and 1973. In 1981, Dr. Fair was a member of a peace-making team that toured the Soviet Union. In 1983 he was guest speaker at the universities of Shanghai and Peking. He delivered the baccalaureate sermon during the 1986 commencement exercises at BCC. He was honored at a retirement dinner in recognition of his outstanding dedication and service to the Stewart Memorial United Methodist Church and for his support in the community. His pastoring career terminated on May 26, 1986.

When you talk to Rev. Fair, it becomes obvious that he loves BCC. During his 40 year reign Rev. Fair was showered with many lucrative job offers but he didn't allow any of them to pull him away from BCC. Not surprisingly, Rev. Fair says that he has no regrets. "I have tremendously enjoyed working at BCC." With a big grin spread across his face, Fair adds that he likes the challenge of dealing with the students.

Bethune Celebrates Founder With Mall Exhibit

In celebration of Bethune-Cookman College's Founder's Week, college officials moved the Mary McLeod Bethune and Roosevelt's "Black Cabinet" Exhibit to the Volusia Mall. The exhibition which was produced by the Smithsonian Institution, and was on display for one week (October 2-8) in the Volusia Mall's center court. The exhibit has been on display at B-CC since February of 1984.

The actual Bethune-Cookman College Founder's Day is October 3, however, the annual assembly program was held on Monday, October 6, at 10:20 A.M. in Moore Gymnasium. Featured speaker was Dr. Richard Strachan, president of the Bethune-Cookman College National Alumni Association.

Mrs. Bethune was born in Maysville, SC, in 1875, the child of slave parents Samuel and Patsy McLeod. Her life has become a model for other blacks. She founded the Daytona Normal and Industrial School for Girls (later known as Bethune-Cookman College) in 1904; started the National Council of Negro Women (1935); and became a friend and advisor to President Franklin Delano Roosevelt and his wife Eleanor.

A number of artifacts that belonged to Mrs. Bethune were in the display, including Mrs. Bethune's Springarm Medal, the highest award given by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). Viewers also saw her 1937 diary and the gavel Mrs. Bethune used when officiating at conferences of the National Youth Administration (NYA), of which she was director of the office of minority affairs.

Bethune-Cookman College general information was available adjacent to the Mary McLeod Bethune and Roosevelt's "Black Cabinet" Exhibition.

Visitors stop to observe the displays.

Tony Brown Speaks

Syndicated columnist and television personality Tony Brown spoke at the opening assembly of the year at BCC. Tony sets a very high standard for speakers to follow this year. Although his speech ran into the lunch hour, the crowd did not leave Moore gymnasium before listening to his complete message.

Tony Brown's Black Journal is currently seen on Channel 24, Orlando Florida Weekly at 3:30 p.m. on Saturdays. Tony used numerous anecdotes to stir the crowd and stimulate the students. Brown informed the audience that Blacks spend more than $200 billion annually in America. "If blacks were to withdraw their support from some manufacturers and producers, they would have difficulty staying afloat."

Brown spoke later in the evening to members of the Daytona Beach community at a dinner co-sponsored by Bethune-Cookman College and the Daytona-Volusia Chamber of Commerce.

Mercury Morris—A Super Comeback

September 8, 1986

Former NFL star running back Eugene "Mercury" Morris, of the Miami Dolphins, came to speak to the students, faculty and staff in BCC's Moore Gymnasium. Morris played eight years of professional football then became addicted to drugs. He later served three and a half years in prison before the Florida Supreme Court ruled he had an unfair trial.

Mercury was the keynote speaker at the "President's Assembly", and he was introduced by former teammate and longtime friend Larry Little. The audience quickly learned that Mr. Morris was not only a talented athlete, but also a very articulate speaker.

He urged the students to make productive choices in their lives, and to choose life over drugs. Drug abuse is threatening to destroy america's youth, especially those in the black community, he told a packed audience. "There is no substance that should be able to control you . . . unless you choose to let it do so," said Morris.

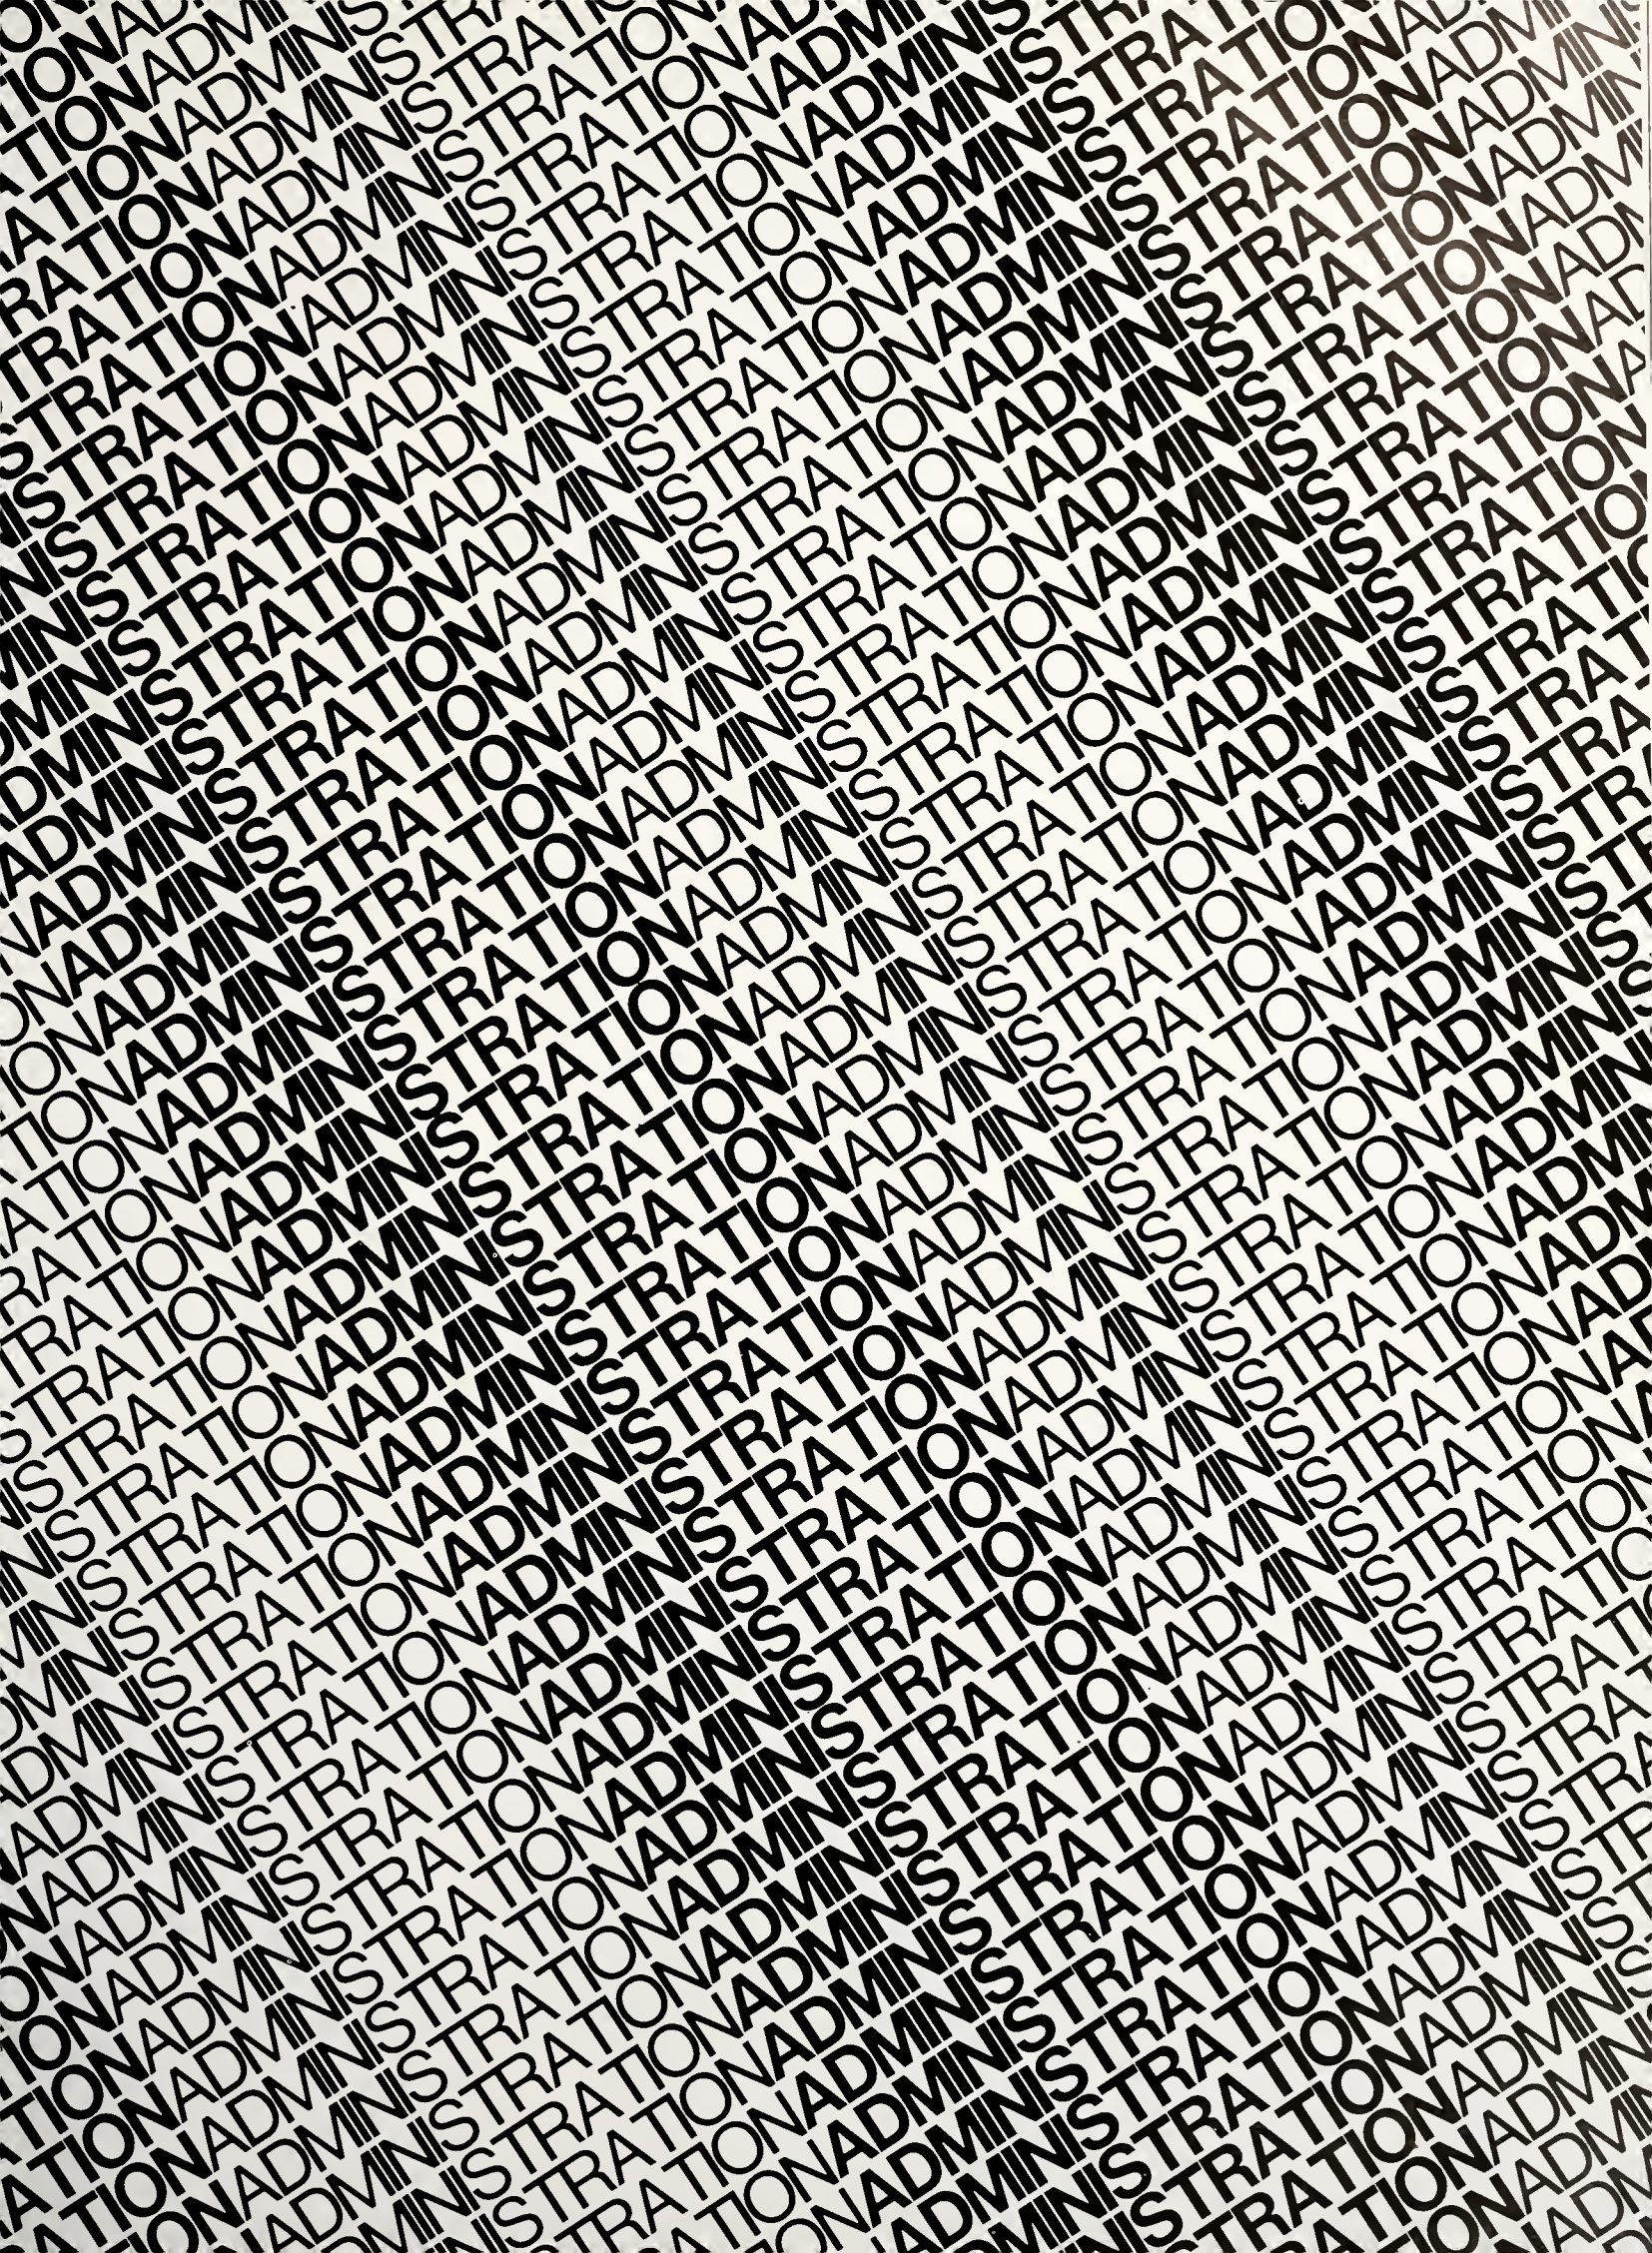

Morris spoke of the deaths of Len Bias and Don Rogers. "God must have a special reason for keeping me alive," Morris said. "I chose to come out of the darkness unfortunately those two will never be able to choose again."

Evangelist Carlton Pearson

Daytona Beach and the surrounding area shook from the impact of evangelist Carlton Pearson and his crusade. Mr. Pearson, from Tulsa, Oklahoma, is a close friend of evangelist Oral Roberts, and has an exciting down to earth style. College students as well as older members from the community were thrilled and enriched by the music and sermons of the Pearson crusade.

There were teaching sessions and interesting Bible discussions for students and faculty members. The sessions were well attended, and students asked challenging questions. Daytona Beach is looking forward to his next visit.

Students of Bethune-Cookman College met noted artist Clarence Schivers on November 11, 1986. Mr. Schivers was displaying his works "20th Century Black Firsts" at the institution. The students had a sense of personal pride because Dr. Bethune, our beloved founder, was one of the main attractions.

Mr. Schivers gladly explained his works, and the students were greatly enriched by the experience.

Martin Luther King Jr. Day

Students had marched for years to City Hall in Daytona Beach, to protest the fact that Martin Luther King, Jr's birthday was not a holiday. On Monday, January 20, 1986, there was a march, but this time, the march was to celebrate the holiday of Dr. King's birthday. Daytona Beach was the lone city in Volusia County with an organized celebration. In fact, many cities resisted the celebration, despite this being a national holiday. Students and faculty members from the college joined other persons from the community in a march down Ridgewood avenue to city hall. There were speakers, proclamations, and music as onlookers sat and stood in chilly weather to honor the king. Bethune-Cookman College held a formal assembly at 8 p.m. on the same date to continue the celebration. The keynote speaker was Dr. Manning Marable who delivered a powerful moving message.

Jeff Buiey

Tragedy struck the Bethune-Cookman College family as preparations were being made for the 1986-87 academic year. Jeff Buiey, a member of the Fighting Wildcats' football team, was killed in a traffic accident near his home in Lake City, Florida.

Coach Larry Little was depending on Jeff to help carry the Wildcats' offense during the 1986 season. "Jeff will be missed not only as a player but as a person," said Coach Little.

Jeff was known on campus as a fun loving young man. An instructor at Bethune-Cookman College recognized the potential that Jeff possessed to achieve academically. He was encouraged to separate himself from negative forces that could result in his downfall. Jeff listened diligently and proceeded to rise above all obstacles.

He was strong-willed and light-hearted. Members of the college family often reflect upon his mischievousness. Everyone who knew Jeff has fond memories of him.

Rest in Peace Jeff . . . We Love You!

Florida Classic 1986

Tampa, Florida was the scene of 1986 Florida Classic Weekend. The classic was held on the weekend following Thanksgiving, and there were activities to attract and entertain large crowds.

The wildcats of Bethune-Cookman College and the Rattlers of FAMU faced off in a male basketball game on Friday night, November 28, at the "Sun Dome" on the campus of the University of South Florida. The crowd witnessed an exciting game that saw a close battle to the finish. The rattlers won by six points, but wildcat fans were impressed with the young players working for "Cy" McClairen.

There were numerous other activities held during the day on Friday, and there were related functions held on Saturday morning. The main event was staged at Tampa Stadium at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday . . . The clash of two football rivals. At the beginning of the game, it appeared that rain would control the game, but the sun came out to dispel that notion. There was the usual drama, strategy, big plays, band pageantry, and awards ceremonies. The rattlers scored early in the first quarter, and never gave up the lead. The half time score was 7-3 FAMU. The final score was 16-6.

Halftime band competition brought out the usual excitement and speculation as to which show was better. There is no scoreboard to rate the bands; therefore, the fans keep their individual ratings and decide for themselves who won the half time duel. Usually BCC fans decide in favor of the marching wildcats, and FAMU fans choose the marching 100.

There was a special presentation to BCC's late Coach Rudolph "Bunky" Matthews, for his many contributions to athletics in the state of Florida. His widow, Mrs. Chequita Matthews received the award on his behalf.

Following the game there were after-parties and fellowships where friends, who had not seen each other for awhile, were able to get together and discuss old times. The classic weekend featured a major concert to please fans seeking additional entertainment after the game.

The "Sun Dome" was the scene of a major concert featuring three nationally known attractions.

The show was opened by Levert who thrilled the crowd with "Pop, pop, pop, pop, goes my Mind."

The second act Melissa Morgan brought the crowd to life with "Do you still love me" and "Do me baby." Miss Morgan was backed by exciting musicians and had an excellent show.

The headliner was Freddie Jackson. The crowd was electrified from the moment the question was asked by the M.C. "Are you ready for Freddie" until the final note from the Jackson Revue. Freddie did all of the numbers that his crowd came to hear. He did "Love is just a touch away", "Tasty Love", and many more.

He closed the show with his big hits "You are my Lady", and "Rock me Tonight."

Many fans will return to Tampa for "Classic Week 87."

Coach "Cy" and Timothy Jones accept MVP trophy at the Florida Basketball Classic

Mr. Bray and the Marching 100 watch as the marching cats perform "classic" style

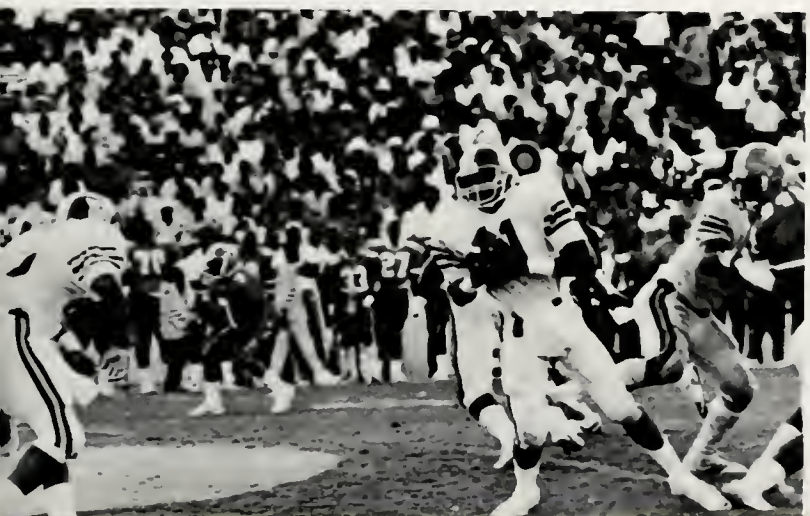

Wildcat defenders played tough all day, and only allowed one "big play" by FAMU.

The "cats" moved the ball, but could not score touchdowns.

Two field goals accounted for the cat scores.

Coach Lloyd "Tank" Johnson stands with Mrs. Chequita Matthews as she receives an award for her husband. She was married to the late Rudolph "Bunky" Matthews, legendary coach of the Bethune-Cookman Wildcats.

Following the action Manny Manolas was given the MVP Trophy for BCC.

A Night with Coach "Cy"—

Coaching requires many many points of concentration. Players have to be taught and motivated. Strategy has to be planned and carried out. Alumni give support and coaching advice. Scoreboards, time clock, and time outs have to be watched. Cheerleaders pray for critical free throws.

The cage cats work hard against conference competitors. The action in Moore Gymnasium is fierce, and champions from the Mid Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC) receive an automatic berth in the NCAA playoffs annually.

B-CC STUDENT IS AN AEROBICS INSTRUCTOR

Patrice Lashan Mitchell is one of the few students at Bethune-Cookman College who has a part-time job doing something she enjoys. Mitchell is a certified aerobics instructor at Peter Lee's on Ridgewood Avenue. Patrice says she loves helping men and women take charge of their health. Her class includes over 60 students ages nine to 75.

It's easy for Patrice to relate to her students because she knows what it is like being overweight and unhealthy. Six years ago Patrice tipped the scales at 210 pounds. She enjoyed eating her mother's fried chicken, biscuits and gravy, collard greens and desserts with heaving icing. Today the twenty-two year old, 6'2" Pisces weighs in at 149 pounds and her favorite dish is spinach souffle.

To Patrice, taking care of the body is sacred. The second year computer science major, wishes that there were more hours in the day so that she could teach more classes.

Patrice is the oldest of three children. She comes from a family of musicians. The entire family sings and play instruments such as the piano, organ, guitar and saxophone.

"It gets hectic, but I love playing music and directing choirs. It's my life, I can't give it up!", the affable musician exclaims as she discussed her first love—music. Patrice is the musical director of at least four area choirs. She sings second alto in the campus concert chorale. And she is looking forward to recording a second record in April. This record will feature her playing the piano, organ and synthesizer.

Although Patrice is a native of Daytona Beach, she attended Tallahassee Community College and Florida State University before attending B-CC. Mitchell says that she chose Cookman because she likes the one on one classroom setting. She confesses that B-CC is the only college that has made her feel at ease and at home. She feels that she is progressing faster than ever before. The B-CEAN flaunts a 3.71 GPA.

The incentives learned at home are still important to Patrice. As a child, she was taught the importance of putting God first. Mitchell begins each day at 5 a.m. with prayer and a 20 minute workout. She finishes at approximately 11 p.m. with 300 repetitions of abdominal exercises and prayer.

Patrice believes a complete person is one who: loves and serves God; is educated; has a job; exercises and eats right.

Law Day 1986

The Men's Senate held its annual Law Day Assembly program in the Heyn Chapel. This program teaches respect for the current system of justice in America, and how the system works.

The speaker this year was Attorney Anderson C. Hill II. Attorney Hill graduated from the University of Florida, with a double major. He was awarded the MBA and Law degrees simultaneously.

This year's recipient of the Senate's "Male Role Model of the Year" award was Dr. Jake Miller.

Attorney Hill was excellent in his presentation.

Mr. Stephen Redd presents the "Role Model" award for the Men's Senate to Dr. Jake Miller.

Founder's Day 1986

Founder's Day 1986 was held on October 6, 1986 in the Moore gymnasium. The keynote speaker was Dr. Richard Strachan, Sr. President of the Bethune-Cookman College National Alumni Association. Dr. Strachan reminded the college family of the rich heritage of the institution, and challenged the students to accept nothing less than the best.

Following the ceremonies in the gymnasium, the crowd moved to the gravesite of the founder to pay tribute. The traditional wreath was placed on the grave and persons in attendance paid their respects by silently greeting the President and walking past the founder's grave.

Religious Outreach Week

Bethune-Cookman College celebrates Religious Outreach Week annually during the month of March. This year's evangelist was Dr. Cornelius L. Henderson, of Atlanta, Georgia. Dr. Henderson is no stranger to Daytona Beach, and the crowd anticipated and appreciated his inspiring messages. Dr. Henderson delivered three messages on campus, and had an exciting evening on "Wildcat Night." Coach Ernest Sheffield, an ordained minister, shared the pulpit on "Wildcat Night."

Oratorical Contest

Heyn Memorial Chapel was the scene of an oratorical contest, that featured several outstanding speakers. The crowd was pleased with the styles and presentations of the participants. The chapel was filled with applause for the performances, and the judges has to decide who was number one. Dana Murray was chosen as the best speaker, and the crowd agreed with a rousing roar of approval. A trophy was awarded for the performance.

Coming Home With "Pride"

Dr. Eze Ogueri II, who attended Bethune-Cookman College in 1948, is now a lawyer and banker who represents NIPEC, an independent petroleum marketing firm. Dr. Ogueri returned to enroll his son at B-CC. He also returned as guest professor of Political Science and open Diplomacy.

Dr. Cleo S. Higgins was a teacher of Dr. Ogueri, and they spent much time together speaking of the way things were in the good old days.

Career Day 1986

Representatives from companies across America came to emphasize the changing face of industry in America. Students were urged by the keynote speaker to spend time preparing for the hard road ahead. "The same parties will be here years from now, but only the academically prepared will move forward to bigger things."

Dr. Rogers P. Fair, Jr., a B-CC graduate, who now practices medicine in Detroit, Michigan, was the speaker for the day. The students were able to relate to his "down to earth" meaningful message. The college is indeed proud of Dr. Fair, son of our college chaplain, for his accomplishments.

Following the dynamic speech, the audience was treated to a brief gospel medley by Mr. Ponder.

“The Island”

The Cultural Affairs Department of Bethune-Cookman College presented Athol Fugard’s two-man, anti-apartheid play, “The Island” and this signaled the start of the 86-87 theatre season at B-CC. The psychological thriller transported the audience in Heyn Memorial Chapel to a jail cell in South Africa where the characters, Winston and John, were serving 10 years for burning their passbooks in defiance of the country’s apartheid laws. The play followed the emotional rollercoaster that both men experienced during their stay in prison.

The audience was greatly impressed with the talented actors, who were very powerful in their portrayal of the characters.

The Board of Counselors of Bethune-Cookman College presented the annual Spring Concert on April 21, 1986. Following statements by Mr. Roland Brown, President of the Board of Counselors, and Dr. Robert Williams, head of the music department, the audience was treated to an evening of fine music.

The Music of Miss Gail Robinson

Gail Robinson, Soprano, is one of our most talented instructors. She is always in demand, and audiences are thrilled by her dynamic performances. Members of the college family always appreciate the opportunity to hear her sing.

Model UN

Annually Bethune-Cookman College holds a Model UN Program on the campus. Dr. Jake Miller, of the Division of Social Sciences is the organizer of this educational experience. The students are exposed to international ideas, speakers, and foods during the U.N. Conference.

The group had the pleasure of hearing the following speakers this year: Dr. Alan Keyes, Assistant Secretary of State, Bureau of International Organizational Affairs, U.S. Department of State; Mr. John T. Spitler, Continental Director, Technocracy, Inc.; Ambassador Walter Carrington, Director, Department of International Affairs, Howard University; and Mr. Robert Ryan, former U.N. representative, who now resides in the Daytona Beach area.

The assembly had an international atmosphere

The BCC Model United Nations Conference is a simulation of actual sessions of the Economic and Social Council and the Security Council of the United Nations. Students from colleges and universities across the South act as ambassadors of U.N.—member nations to this simulated U.N. session.

The purpose of the program is educational. An experiential activity, the program teaches the student participants about the nations which they represent, about global problems, and provides them with a framework for understanding the complexities of contemporary international relations.

Toastmaster's Charter Ceremonies

*The Bethune-Cookman College
Toastmaster's Club was chartered on December 3, 1986. The formal program was held in the East Conference room of the Carl
S. Swisher Library. Members of the club were joined by faculty and administration of Bethune-Cookman College in this venture.
State and regional offices of Toastmasters
International were represented at the affair.*

Mr. John Dupoux, who planted the seed for the local club, beamed with pride during the speeches, and special presentations. Dr. Oswald P. Bronson, President, was very impressed with the program.

The Toastmasters Program featured several memorable speeches. Some of the speakers are shown, and persons in attendance will certainly recall the excitement generated by them. It was certainly a night of "Cats Pride."

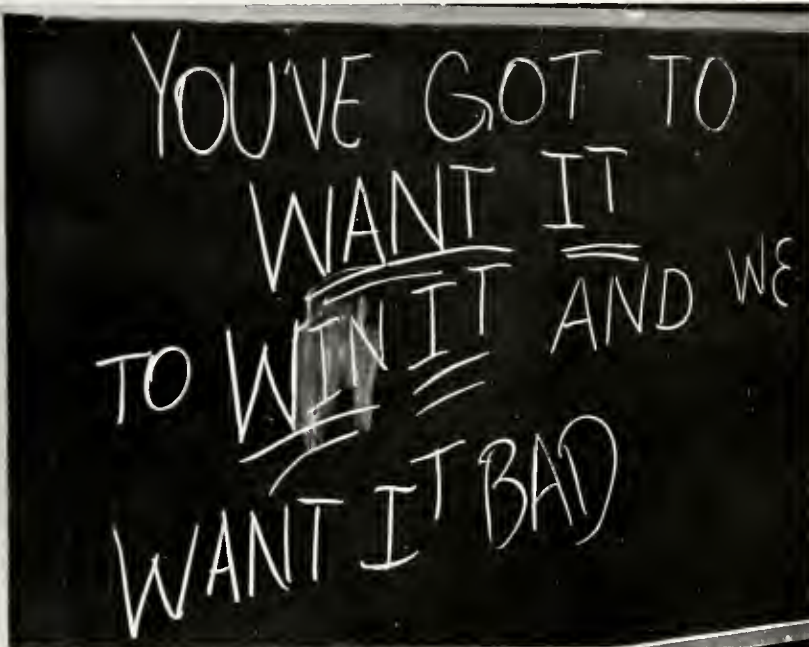

Cats & Snakes Do Battle

The Bethune-Cookman cage cats and the FAMU Rattlers always create excitement when they meet. The clash of maroon and gold and orange and green has a tendency to draw crowds and excite spectators. Each basket scored has more meaning if it is against the cross state rival. The thrill of victory is enhanced when it is over the arch rival, and the agony of defeat is more bitter when it is to the arch rival. Everyone understands the circumstances, and everyone is thirsty for the competition . . . long live the rivalry.

Christmas Ball '86

The 1986-87 Christmas Ball was held at the Desert Inn Motel on December 6, 1986.

The affair was sponsored by the Student Government Association. Music was provided by Ken Moore and the Entertainers. There was the cutting of the traditional Christmas cake, and the student body put on a real fashion show, by wearing "out of this world" attire.

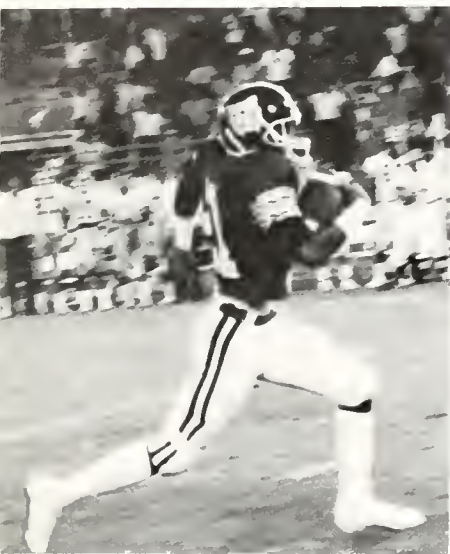

Say No to Drugs

Daytona Beach, Florida, formally declared November 18, 1986, "Say NO to Drugs Day." There were demonstrations across the city to dramatize the devastating affects of drug abuse. Reverend Carl Brinkley pushed the city fathers and other civic leaders to obtain this day.

Bethune-Cookman College participated in the "Say NO to Drugs Day." Campus organizations were challenged by the SGA to show the way in demonstrating against drug abuse. The group cited for best demonstration of support was the 1986-87 Senior Class.

National Champs "Cats Pride"

Daytona Beach's "Spring Break" has been associated with college students in large numbers. A negative image has been projected because of excessive drinking, rowdy behavior, and leaps from hotel balconies. The city has begun working to change the image of rowdy behavior and replace it with a cleaner more acceptable one. A new sports competition has recently been organized for this purpose.

Bethune-Cookman College was represented by a group of young men who won a national basketball championship in this "clean" competition. Members of the team were:

Bruce Miles, Anthony Lloyd, Kevin White, Cedric Washington, Chris Hinson, Vince Paige, Chuck Franklin, Kenny Keys, Terrell Young, John Neal—Assistant Coach and Said Deean—Head Coach.

We thought this would be a good way to close the book on "Cats Pride."
